MCDONALDS SCHOOL-BASED TRAINEESHIP INFORMATION NIGHT

One of the many benefits in working for McDonald's is the opportunity to receive outstanding training and development in whichever role is performed. McDonald's offers traineeships to crew in Certificate II in Retail Services and Certificate III in Retail Operations. Traineeships are structured, self-paced training programs that combine hands on experience and skill development with off the floor study and activities. Crew completing a traineeship with McDonald's receive time to complete their study and are supported through the program by a designated coach. These qualifications issued from these certificates are equal to the same qualification that can be completed at a TAFE or other educational institution all with zero cost to you! We pay for the entire thing! As well as offering standard traineeships we recognise that some crew may want to complete a traineeship while studying at school. Students can be enrolled in Certificate II in Retail Services and even go on to complete Certificate III in Retail Operations while working at McDonald's. School-based traineeships are a fantastic way to combine practical work experience with formal school study with the added bonus of being able to qualify for up to 8 QCE points.
